

The Light of Creation

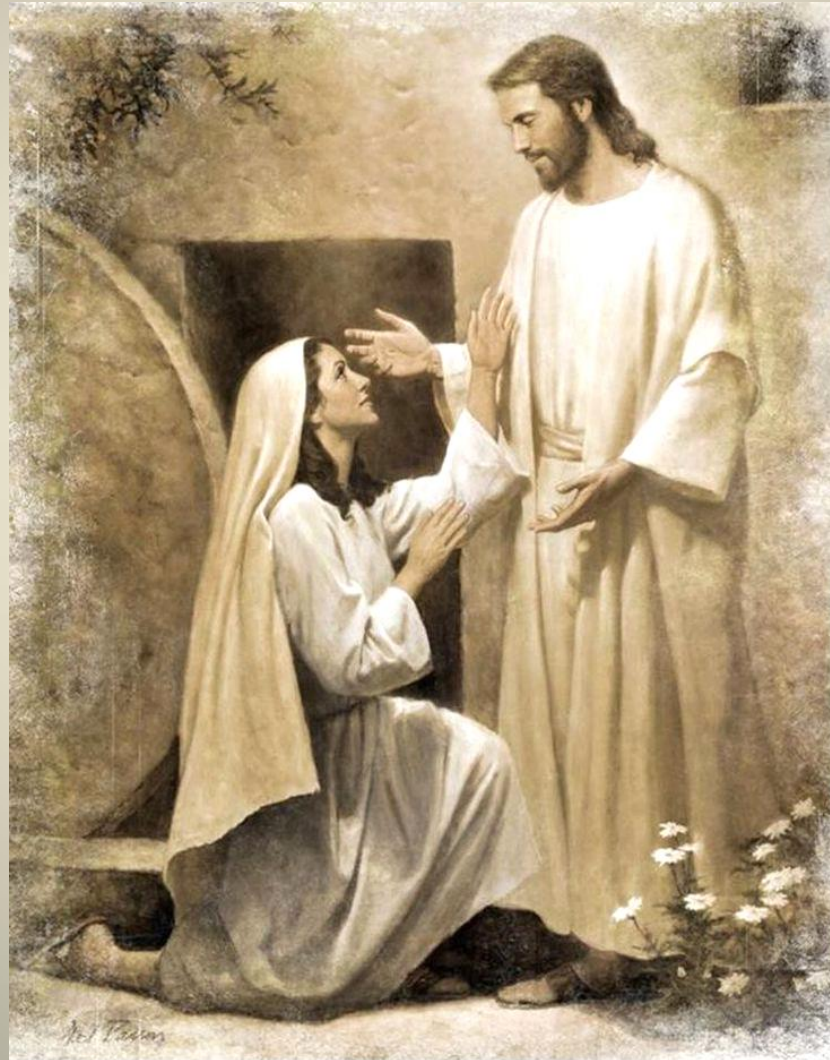

- It is living
- It is spirit
- It is aware
- It is loving

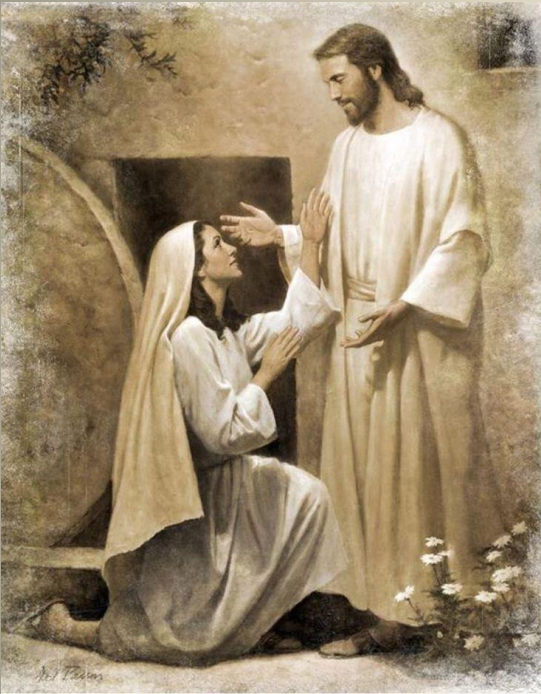

The Color Rays of Divinity

- Physical light refracted becomes a rainbow of color.
- Heavenly light refracted are living color rays that vibrate as virtues, the virtues of God.

Twin Flames—Twin Missions

Twin Flames—Twin Missions

When working as one, twin flames assist the forward movement of a culture “the heart of twin flames is great enough to hold the world in its embrace”

—ECP, Soul Mates and Twin Flames, Book 2

Twin Flames—Twin Missions

Jesus' HeartStream, 2005:

“The purpose of our coming (Jesus and Magda) to earth was to inculcate in the very DNA of the race the Christic Light so that all could attain to that level.

“You have heard the story of the fall. Our story is the story of the rising from the fall.”

Twin Flames—Twin Missions

Jesus' HeartStream, 2005:

“... When I fell three times on the road to Golgotha, it was the fall under the weight of the perversion of the threefold flame of love, wisdom and power. ...”

Twin Flames—Twin Missions

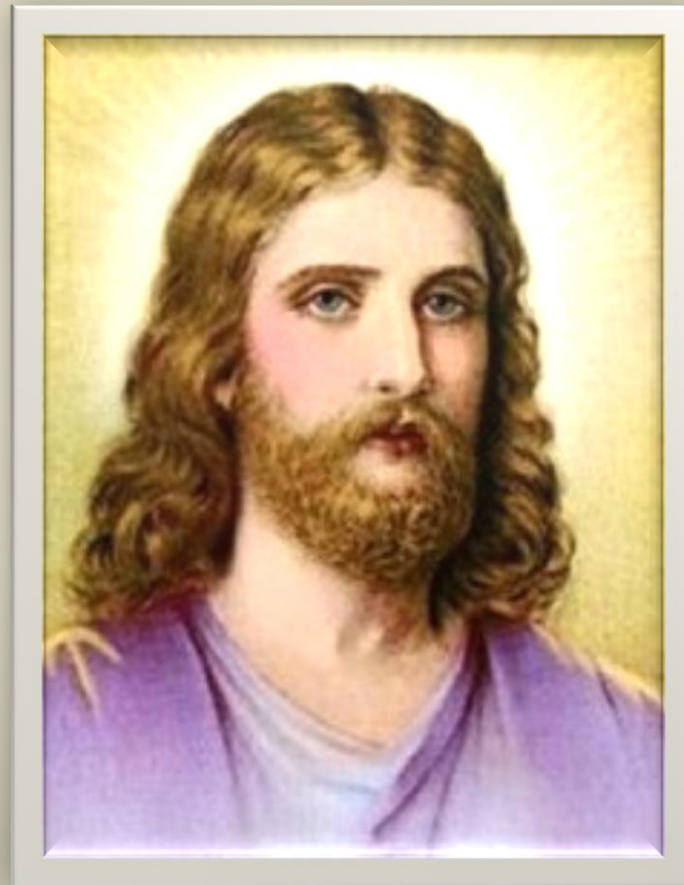

Jesus' HeartStream,
2005:

“... The resurrection is the ultimate demonstration of the raising up of the light within man and woman after the fall. The resurrected and ascended states are the natural estates of the son and daughter of God.”

Jesus' Mission

- To teach us a new depth of forgiveness
- To take us to new heights of divine love: Luke 10: 27
- To empower each of us to become the Christ, the Living Word
- To restore woman to her rightful place of equality with man

Jesus' Soul Origin

Like many souls destined to be originators of the world's major religions, Jesus came to Earth from Venus with Sanat Kumara many eons ago on a rescue mission on behalf of Earth.

Jesus' Travels as a Youth

- Between ages 12 and 30, Jesus traveled in the Far East, studying in both the etheric and physical retreats of the Brotherhood at Luxor and in the Himalayas.
- Records of his travels can be found in a Hindu monastery in Ladakh, Kashmir and in books on this topic by Nicholas Roerich and Elizabeth Claire Prophet.
- During these years, he learned the power of the spoken mantra and I AM statements. He mastered the gifts of healing and performance of all manner of miracles.
- He was aided and protected in his Eastern travels by the Three Magi who came to Bethlehem to honor him with gifts at his birth.

John 3:16: “For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son...”

- The teachings of the ascended masters explain that “the only begotten son” refers to the Holy Christ/Buddha Self of each of us.
- Some scholars believe that the words may not be an accurate translation.
- Some Biblical researchers feel this statement could have been added later as the Church sought to control its members, disempowering them.
- Apocryphal works, including the Gnostic Gospels, teach that every soul is a son, a daughter of God, each one a unique version of the Christ.

Jesus' Magnificent Mission

- Jesus came to update the Hebrew law delivered by Moses of an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth to encourage us to love even our enemies.
- Jesus showed us how to forgive everyone, love everyone, bless everyone.
- Jesus took the Ten Commandments and scrunched them into two: “Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength and with all your mind”; and love your neighbor as yourself.”

—Luke 10:27

Jesus' Magnificent Mission

- He came to empower us to become the teaching—not just read it, not just study it, not just discuss it.
- He was the embodiment of the Living Christ.
- He believed in us and said to his disciples then and now: “And greater things than these will ye do.” —John 5:20

Jesus' Magnificent Mission

- He came to introduce us to our real identity in God, which includes our own Inner Teacher—the Christ, also called the Holy Christ/Buddha Self.
- This Inner Teacher acts as Mediator between our soul and our I AM Presence, our individual God-Identity.

Jesus' Magnificent Mission

He came to

to her rightful place of spiritual equality with man!

Jesus' Magnificent Mission

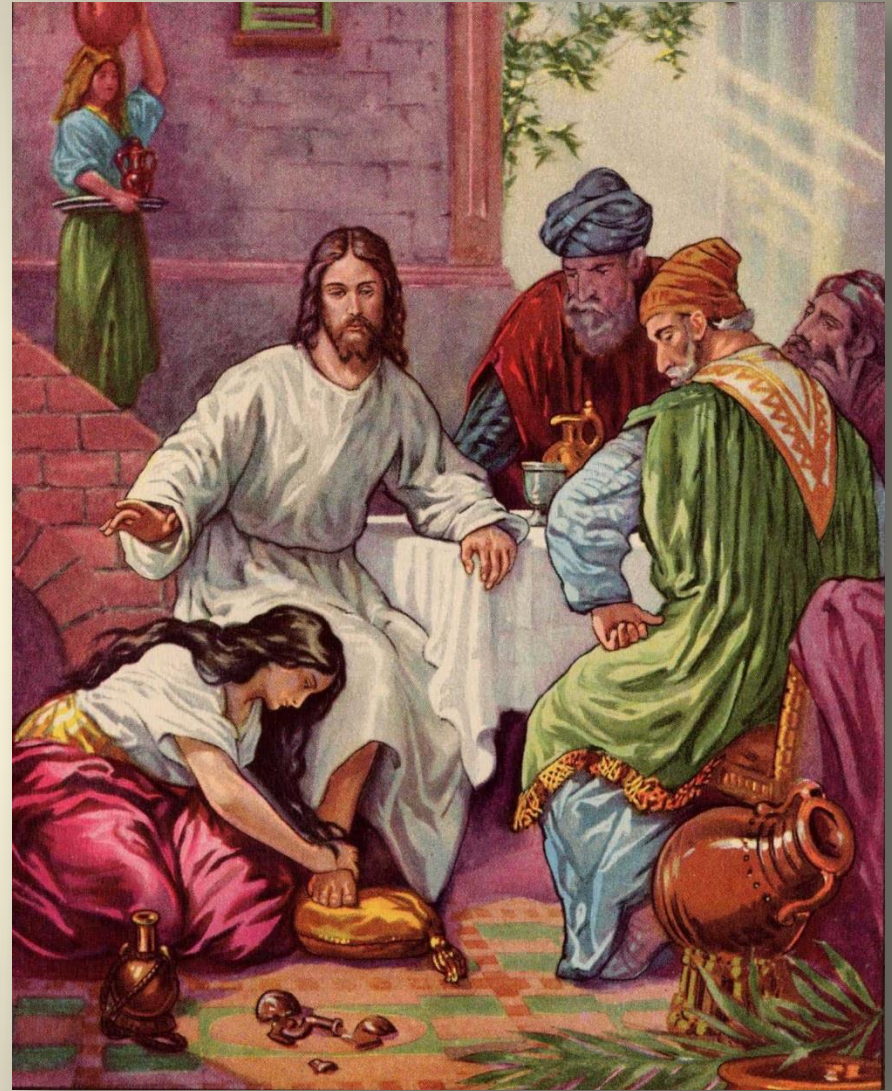

- As a youth, Jesus traveled to India and Tibet. In interacting with Hindus, Buddhists, Zoroastrians, Greeks, Egyptians, he repeatedly witnessed their focus on the Divine Feminine, God as both Father and Mother. —Mary Magdalene and the Divine Feminine, p. 35
- He was referred to as Saint Issa in India and he is recorded as saying regarding woman, “Reverence woman, mother of the universe. ... Love your wives and honor them. ... Their love ennobles man, soothes the embittered heart. ... Do not humiliate her, for therein you will humiliate yourselves.”
—Mary Magdalene and the Divine Feminine, p. 35

Jesus' Most Dedicated Disciple— Mary Magdalene

Mary Magdalene was...

- The staunchest supporter of Jesus' mission and one of Jesus' chief disciples.
- From a wealthy family and helped financially support Jesus and his disciples.
- Jesus' wife, married to him at the wedding at Cana, where Jesus performed his first public miracle.
- The recipient of teachings he shared only with her.

Magda's Mission

To represent the penitent soul, the redeemed soul, the completely devoted soul

Magda's Mission

To be the Omega return: “So, I desire an image of her [Magda] to grace your sanctuaries beloved ones; for as my twin she holds the Omega balance for the fire that I will deliver as a World Teacher with Kuthumi unto you. ...And so, yes, she and John the Beloved were my chief disciples, for they did love not only the person but they became the All through that love.” --Jesus via DCL, May 26, 2005

Magda's Mission

To raise the Divine Feminine in all, restoring woman to her rightful place, honored and able to serve equally in every spiritual capacity as does man.

Magda's Mission

To receive divine mysteries from Jesus that were for her ears only because of her devotion and humility

Magda's Mission

To help us overcome the temptations of the world and dedicate ourselves to the Christ.

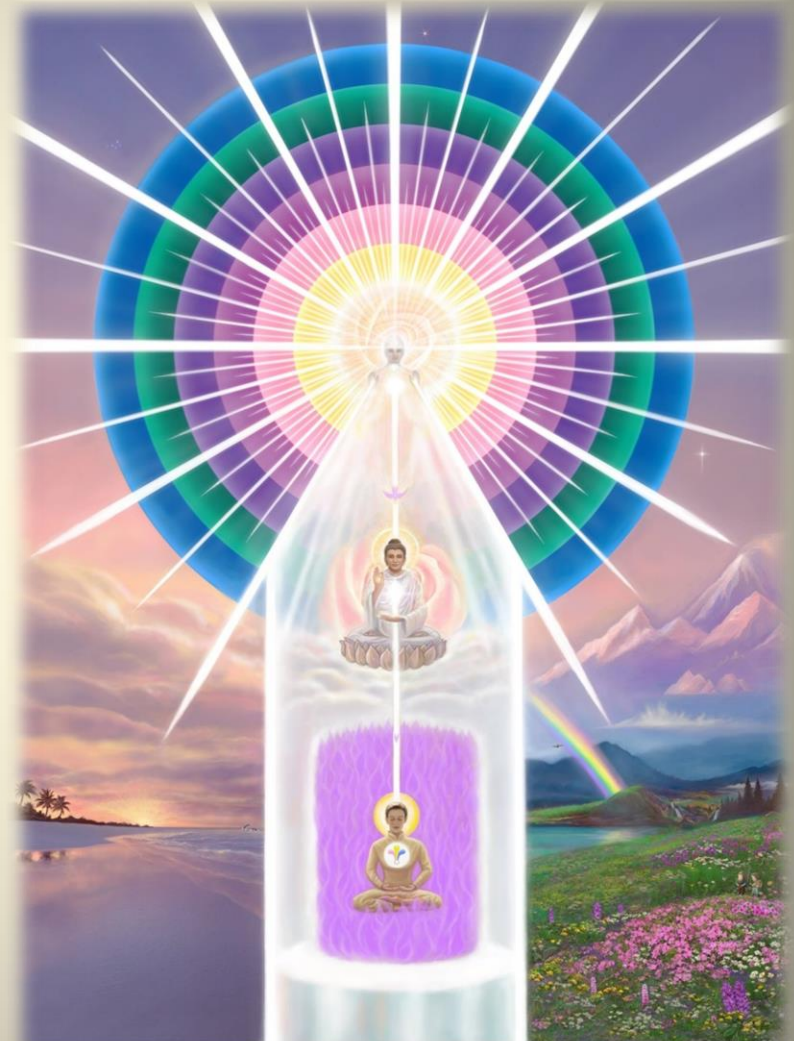

“Magda will weave for you an understanding of her walk—worshipping the Christ, not the man Jesus but the inner light that I bore. ... —Jesus’ HeartStream, June 26, 2005

Magda's Mission

To bring an understanding of the crystalline structure of our tubes of light

The crystal-diamond tube of light is our heavenly cylinder of protection. It descends from our Solar Presence upon invocation and remains intact as long as we maintain our harmony, centeredness and belief in its reality.

Magda explains that the atmosphere within this tube is a living, liquid-crystal diamond substance.

Her mantra, 9.009, in our Prayers, Decrees and Mantras reminds us to affirm that this is truly where we reside at all times as we walk the Earth.

Magda's Mission

To remind us to “...commune with the Spirit, the Comforter, that the Lord Jesus said he would send when he ascended to the heart of the Father. And ask of that Spirit this night what you would have as a portion of the fullness of the gifts, what you as a disciple of the Christ would glean from the very heart of the Blessed Trinity on behalf of those whom you came to serve upon this earth.”

—Magda's HeartStream, June 29, 2008

Magda's Mission

As Mary Magdalene,
she ...

1. Was one of Jesus' chief disciples.

2. Was instrumental in Jesus' Galilean mission.

4. Came from a wealthy family and helped financially support Jesus and the disciples' work.

Magda's Mission

Through recent revelation, we have learned Jesus and Magda knew they were twin flames.

The wedding at Cana was their wedding.

Magda's Mission

The Gnostic Gospels tell us Jesus gave Mary Magdalene teachings he gave to none of the other disciples.

Twin Flame Relationship

Jesus describes his mission and relationship with “...my beloved consort Magdalene, who truly was the very reflection of myself in form; and we did walk and talk together and wed in the true spirit of divine love that we both bore on behalf of all whom we served and were called to be a witness to of twin flames.

It is only through the tampering with the records of the Keeper of the Scrolls that you have been denied the true record of the love we shared, which was not an earthly sensual love but truly the love of twin flames whose joint mission it is to love God first and foremost and then through that joint adoration to go forth to teach and preach the wisdom of the Mother to all her children. ...”

—Jesus’ HeartStream, May 17, 2007

Magda's Mission

... “Yes, I was married unto my beloved in that embodiment. And I declare it unto you this day that Magda was worthy to be the vessel for the sacred blood of the Christ that flowed through her arteries and veins whereby there was through her the transmission of that essential nature of the Christ that she also embraced, having accepted her own mission as a feminine counterpoint and as one who could also emanate the same Christ Light. “

—Jesus' HeartStream, May 17, 2007

Many “Mary”s in the Gospels

Mary Magdalene has been confused with every other Mary mentioned in the Gospels except for Jesus’ mother.

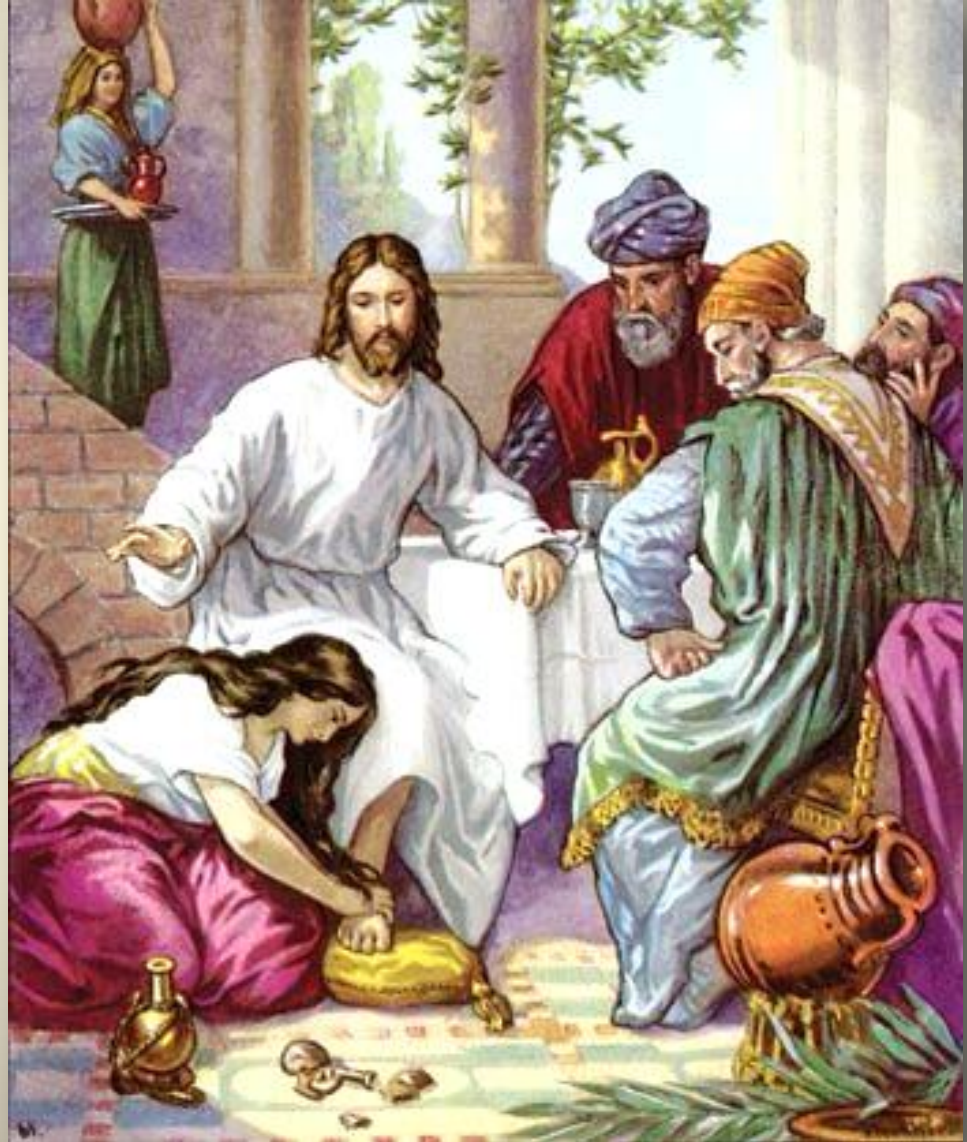

She has been identified as an adultress. We have been told Jesus exorcised from her seven demons. These conclusions may have been perpetrated by the church fathers to demean her true role.

All-Consuming Devotion

Her devotion to Jesus was all-consuming.

She bathed Jesus' feet and anointed them with oil at the house of Simon the Leper.

All-Consuming Devotion

Mary Magdalene stayed with Jesus at his crucifixion after most others fled.

She was the one to discover his empty tomb and also the first to see him in his glorified body after his resurrection.

Magda's Final Embodiment: Aimee Semple McPherson (1890-1944)

Aimee was born in 1890, as Aimee Elizabeth Kennedy. Her Mother, Minnie, told God that if He would allow her to bear a daughter, she would consecrate her daughter to God.

Aimee grew up in a Salvation Army family. And also had some Methodist training.

Aimee Semple McPherson

In her teens, Aimee struggled with doubts about her religious training. She was not able to resolve the dichotomy between evolutionism and creationism. She desired to go to dances, which was strictly forbidden in her spiritual community.

In the midst of all this adolescent turmoil, she met Robert Semple, a Pentecostal evangelist and missionary. They fell in love and married. She was 17.

Aimee Semple McPherson

They traveled together to China as missionaries in 1910. Aimee had a vision that Robert would pass on soon after their marriage. And he did, within a year of their time in Hong Kong.

After his death she returned with their newborn daughter to the United States.

Aimee Semple McPherson

Two years later, while working with her mother and the Salvation Army in New York City, she met and soon married Harold S. McPherson. The marriage later ended when she turned to full-time itinerant evangelism and healing.

Aimee's Healing Ministry Begins

At the outset of Aimee's ministry, she received this message from Jesus, "When you lay your hands on them, I will lay my hands on yours. And all the time you are standing there, I will be standing right back of you. And when you speak the Word, I will send the power of the Holy Ghost." (Masters and Their Retreats quoting Aimee bio, This Is That)

Aimee's Ministry

After years of traveling all across the United States, preaching on street corners and at tent meetings, Aimee built Angelus Temple in Echo Park, L.A., which filled with thousands of worshippers several times a day, seven days a week.

Aimee's Ministry

Through illustrated sermons there, she introduced hundreds of thousands to the Christian message and a relationship with Jesus. During these sermons she often dressed in costumes that related to the theme of her address and drew from personal experiences to create spiritual analogies that resonated with her congregation and kept them riveted upon her.

Aimee's Ministry

Her revivals attracted hundreds of thousands of people, and she utilized modern technologies such as radio to bring her message to a wide audience.

Aimee's Ministry

Aimee's devotion to Jesus continued and deepened through her life. She performed healings early in her career as Jesus worked through her. She communed with him often, hearing him speaking to her. She understood the relationship of Christians to Jesus as a marriage bond. And she even published a monthly magazine called Bridal Call.

Aimee's Transition

In 1944, at age 53, Aimee made her transition. The Akashic record tells us that after passing, she worked in the heavenworld to balance her remaining karma. She ascended in 1990.

Magda and the Violet Flame

Magda speaks of her embodiment as Aimee: “I rejoice to have experienced the arduous years during which I was balancing my karma. And those years were indeed arduous for I had not embraced the violet flame that was being released when I was serving in California. ...

Magda and the Violet Flame

“... Thus, with all that I had of Jesus’ love and all of the service I gave throughout the world ... when I passed from the screen of life, I still had my karma to deal with. And then it was that I saw and understood and accepted the violet flame.

Magda and the Violet Flame

“... But for many decades [in the heavenworld] I had to apply the violet flame, not only to my immediate past life but to many prior lifetimes. And this was simply because I was never given the knowledge of the violet flame when I was embodied.

Magda and the Violet Flame

“... “Do you realize that I served in the Angelus Temple in Los Angeles at the same time that Guy and Mama Ballard were also preaching and giving the teachings of the violet flame?”

—The Masters and Their Retreats, p. 198

The Omega Return

Even though there was karma to balance, in her lifetime as Aimee Magda became the Omega Return of Jesus' Alpha Thrust. In one sense, "Greater works than these," which Jesus spoke of, is the description of Aimee's ministry.

The Omega Return

“Experience not doctrine was what it was all about” for Aimee.” –Aimee Semple McPherson—Everybody’s Sister, p.222

Through her healing ministry she was the vehicle for the reigniting of the threefold flame in the hearts of Christians and all whom Jesus healed through her.

Implications for Us: Work with Our Twin Flames

From Maitreya's Aug. 2, 2009 discourse:

...we gradually understand the equation day by day as we meditate and pray, as we solar gaze, as we do all of our spiritual practices so that we can engage at a higher level of presence with our twin flame, supportive of us and we supportive of our twin flame.

Implications for Us: Work with Our Twin Flames

From Maitreya's Aug. 2, 2009 discourse:

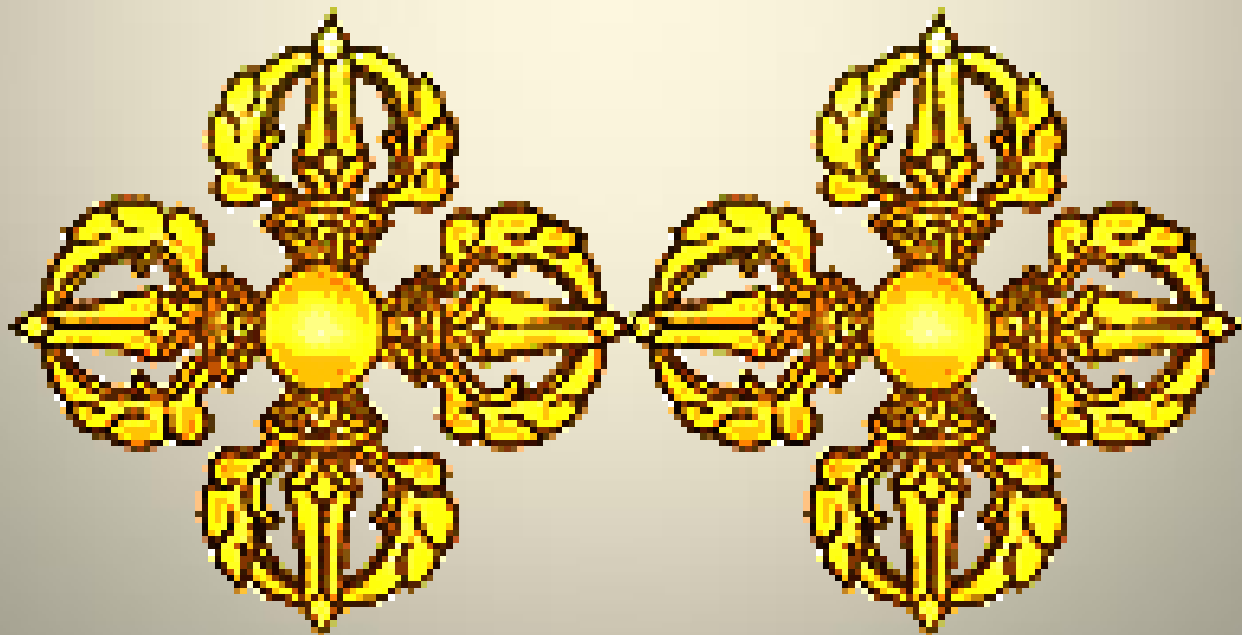

...And as I see the dynamic occurring, there is the figure-eight flow as Above so below between us, our soul and the Oversoul of our Presence in one figure-eight. And then there is the comingling of light with that of our twin flame in another figure eight.

Implications for Us: Work with Our Twin Flames

From Maitreya's Aug. 2, 2009 discourse:

...And it is as if we have a double dorje experience occurring whereby we have the horizontal and the vertical simultaneously in the figure-eight flow. And actually you have two double dorjes because there is the comingling of both of you.

Implications for Us: Work with Our Twin Flames

From Maitreya's Aug. 2, 2009 discourse:

...The key is wholeness and integrity within ourselves. That is the goal—union with God right where we are. And this integration doesn't have to be put off to some future where you say, I'm going to be reunited with my twin flame. ...

... We can have this union now.
